ABT Molecular Imaging, manufacturer of a fully integrated cyclotron solution for Molecular Imaging, has raised $15 Million in financing, helping to accelerate global expansion of the U.S. based firm. A total of $10 Million of the financing round was provided by SWK Holdings Corporation and $5 Million was a follow-on of a Series C offering.

Peter Kingma, President and CEO of ABT stated today that "This infusion of capital is further affirmation of ABT's unique proposition in the oncology market, and will enable us to access exciting new markets, and develop our technology platform to better match significant untapped customer needs".

"SWK is very pleased to partner with ABT to support the commercialization of the company's Biomarker Generator platform with non-dilutive capital," said Brett Pope, CEO of SWK Holdings Corporation. "ABT's Biomarker Generator is an important innovation that will expand access of imaging drugs worldwide."
